Sugarcane Research Program Surprises Foreign Visitors

Joseph M. Mizzi, from Ingleton, Queensland, Australia, and recipient of the Churchill Fellowship Grant in Australia, was a visitor this week at the USDA Sugarcane Harvesting Laboratory to study methods of cultivation and harvesting of sugarcane in this area.

The Fellowship is a 14-week tour which takes in Hawaii, Mexico, Louisiana, Florida, Jamaica and Puerto Rico and includes the cane areas at each of these stops.

"Australians just don't realize the extent of cane development in harvesting and research in the United States," said Mizzi, "which I find to be outstanding."

Looking over the size of some of the machinery now under testing at the center, Mizzi said that, "In Australia, we don't have the choice of sizes that you do and in some cases build our harvesters around the size tires available."

In Australia, cane harvesting cost 50 per cent more by manual than mechanical because of labor shortage, said Mizzi, "our machines are lighter and do not cut the same quantity of cane as machines in the U.S. Everything is on a much smaller scale in Australia, said Mizzi, however even though our tractors are smaller we come up with similar equipment for the mill."

In U. S. mills an allowance of 6 per cent trash is acceptable, while in Australia only 3 per cent is permitted before a penalty charge is made. Conducting the tour here was Joe Clayton, who when asked about testing methods said that operation of harvesters was checked with high-speed photography and a power measurement was used on devices.

In the area Mizzi comes from, 24 million tons of cane are harvested each year. The cane belt in Australia itself extends northward from Brisbane to Mossman, except for a small area south of Brisbane, which is harvested manually, and continues up to 40 miles inland before leaving the front protected area provided by the coast.

Other visitors to the Sugarcane Harvesting Laboratory since the first of this year include: March 1968, Mr. J. M. Mizzi, Don Mizzi sugarcane machinery, Queensland, Australia; Mr. M. W. Chapman, Don Mizzi Sugarcane; and Mr. D. V. Genter, Colonel Sugar Refinery, Queensland, Australia; February 1968, Mr. R. F. Innes, Bookers Agricultural Holdings Limited, London; Mr. F. E. Deacon, Tate & Lyle Technical Services, London; January 1968, Mr. Ethel L. Clavery, Puerto Rico Land Authority, Chief Engineer for Sugarcane Program; Mr. Charles Lang, Mr. Pedro Rodriguez and Mr. J. Musell, Los Canos, Arcecho, Puerto Rico.

Representatives of sugarcane harvesting manufacturers in Louisiana who attended the Field-Day, March 11 were: Cary Iron Works, Opelousas; Thomson Machinery Co., Thibodaux; J. & L. Engineering Company, Inc., Jeanette; Broadband Machine Company, St. Martinville.

Applications may be filed as early as the third month before the month in which you reach retirement age. If you are 65 or older you should apply for benefits even though you are still working.

If you cannot go to West Palm Beach, a Social Security Representative will be at the following places on the dates and times shown.

National Glade — 9:00 to 12:00 Road 80 — Apr., May, June, every Tuesday.
Pahokee — 9:00 to 12:00, Thursday — 2nd Floor City Hall, Apr. 11, 25; May 9, 23, June 6, 20.

Talent Night To Kickoff 15th Annual Harvest Queen Contest

55 Beauties Entered

The 15th annual Harvest Queen Contest will kick off tonight with a talent show at 8 o'clock in the Belle Glade High School Gym. Fifty-five contestants between the ages of 16 and 21 throughout western Palm Beach County, mostly from Belle Glade and Pahokee, will vie for top honors.

Friday night will feature the beauty contest at 8 o'clock, followed on Saturday by the Adult Coronation Ball from 9 p.m. till 2 a.m. at the new Elks Club Building. Music for the ball will be furnished by Peter Chase, who has played with Von Monroe and Bob Crosby, and is the former owner of the bowling alley here.

The Teen Coronation Ball will be held Saturday, 9 p.m. till 1 a.m. at the Junior High Cafeteria featuring the music of the Combination Squares from Miami. Punch and refreshments will be served.

Bob Lee will M. C. the contest Friday night. Plans have been made to have the contest televised by Channel 5 and run Monday night from 8 to 11 p.m. with Gary Dean as M. C., while the entire contest will be broadcast live on WSWN-FM Friday.

The Queen is chosen on the basis of the beauty contest in formal attire only. Coordinators are Janice Flieth and Jeanette Cameron.

Reigning Queen who will crown the new queen is Aggie Greeninger.

There will be five judges for the beauty contest and three for the talent contest. The talent contest is separate and the winner entitled Miss Talent.

Reigning Miss Talent, Joanne Harris, will perform, but not be a contestant, however, she is a contestant in the Beauty Contest.

The contestants have voted on a Miss Congeniality and she will be announced Friday night.

All 55 girls will go before the judges who will eliminate all but 15. The 15 will then be cut down to eight. The eight will be asked a question and the two runners-up and Queen chosen from them, said Ray Ashton, Jaycee Committee Co-Chairman for the program. Admission for both contests is adults $1.50 and students 75c.

The stage will be decorated with fresh vegetables and the setting is kept as a surprise.

Biggest difference between this year and last is that the activities are held on three consecutive nights, whereas before the talent show and contest have been one Saturday with the dances the following Saturday. The Jaycees hope eventually to have a week long harvest festival.

This is the only contest in the state that has so many entrants and can handle them all in one night, said Ashton.

Some of the prizes for the Queen will be a trip to the Bahamas, a wardrobe gift certificate from the Red Shutter, a trophy and a free modeling course from Meele-Murphy Close in Palm Beach.

A reception for the judges will be held at the Holiday Inn prior to the contest. Donations for the dances will be Adult $10 couple. Teen $5 couple. Contact J. D. (Willie) Lee III for invitations.

Rogers' Bill Tightens Bond Restrictions

Congressman Paul Rogers today introduced legislation to tighten up the Federal bail bond statutes dealing with persons charged with capital crimes or the use of a deadly weapon. Basically, Rogers' bill denies bail to anyone charged with an offense punishable by death or an offense involving the use of a deadly or dangerous weapon. An offshoot of the bill requires a judicial officer to consider a defendant's potential danger to society while determining if a defendant should be released before trial. Rogers was quick to add that he would also call for speedy disposition of cases where the defendant was held without bond, but backed up his purposes for introducing the bill with figures indicating the need for such legislation.

Miss Talent '67 Tells About Last Contest

The Joyce-sponsored Talent Show which took place last night (Tuesday, March 28) at 8 p.m. will feature 15 girls this year, according to James Alwood, Dramatic Coach at the Pahokee High School, directing the show. Last year's Talent Show winner, lovely Joanne Harris, a Drama and Music student, gives her biography. "Born in Jacksonville, Fla., I moved to Belle Glade at the age of 2 1/2 years. I have attended school in Belle Glade and am a senior at Belle Glade High School. When I was asked to write my biography, I wondered just where to begin. I will just give a little of my background on why I entered the talent contest last year. When I was four years old I began taking dancing lessons, singing in my church choir and dreaming of becoming a famous actress, just as many little girls do. This, I suppose, was the beginning of my performing in front of an audience and showing any form of talent at all. Piano kept me interested in music and in the sixth grade I began taking band, playing a clarinet. At the age of 12 I attended Camp Crestview for Girls in Ridgeway, N.C., and started taking drama lessons and singing popular songs as well as religious songs. For the last five years I have been going to Crestview for five weeks of each summer and learning more and more about drama and music. I had attended the two Harvest Queen talent contests previously and the thought entered my mind, what did I have to present if I were to enter the contest next year. So I was off to camp again that summer to take drama, and singing along with other activities. When the closing of the session comes a program is usually presented by the Drama Classes. The musical "My Fair Lady" was chosen and I was fortunate enough to be picked to play the leading role of Eliza Doolittle. This was the most exciting and rewarding moment of my life and as far as I am concerned, this gave me the opportunity and the experience and desire to want to continue the study of music and drama. My question of what I could present had been answered and by rewriting a script and changing some of the hit songs from the musical program, I composed my own version of "My Fair Lady." I can't really express the feelings that I experienced while presenting my talent, but I wouldn't have traded places with anyone in the world at that moment. The joy and satisfaction I received from entertaining a group of people and knowing that they enjoyed what I did, was the finest reward I could ever receive. Since the contest last year, I have been taking voice lessons from Mrs. Esther Weinger and I am truly grateful for the help she has given me in training my voice. I hope to further my learning in voice and drama when I enter college next fall. My major will be in nursing and Miss Talent '68 has been a wonderful experience and I am grateful to everyone who has helped me attain this reward."

First Woman Deacon Ordained

Mrs. W. K. (Margaret) Whitlock, the first woman deacon in Everglades Presbyterian Church, was ordained and installed March 17 during 11 a.m. service.

The pastor Rev. Leland Edmunds presided at the ordination and installation service, supported by elders and deacons who came forward for the service. After prayer they gave Mrs. Whitlock the right hand of fellowship, indicating their pleasure in having her to serve as an officer.

Esta pasada semana se han publicado notas en el periódico sobre billetes de $10 y $20 falsos que han sido pautados en el área de Belle Glade. Todavía no se han hecho arrestos.

"The International Order of Rainbow for Girls was really started back in 1945," by Brother Joseph Rankin Cherry who must have seen the how in the clouds, for when he heard about the wonderful order for girls he wanted to get one started.
So he contacted Dad Clark, who was supreme deputy of the State of Ohio at that time to see what had to be done. Brother Cherry and his wife, Mrs. Lonas Stubbs of Ozark, Arkansas arrived Monday night for a visit with brothers and sisters in South Bay and Belle Glade.
W. R. Hooker entered Glades General Hospital for x-rays and tests Tuesday, since having the flu he hasn't been feeling too well.

SEN. ELMER O. FRIDAY
The decision to offer for re-election to the State Senate was not an easy one, considering the extreme demands on family, law practice and business in the last several years. My wife, law partners and children have concurred, though, and I take pride in announcing my plans to seek re-election to the 34th Senate District of Glades, Hendry, Lee and Palm Beach Counties.

Largest Election Year Shaping Up

This year 1968 will be one of the largest elections year in Palm Beach County has ever had. New residents are crowding the registration office to register for the first time in this county.

The registration office located in the Glades Office Building will remain open two Saturdays for the benefit of those people who cannot get into this office during regular office hours. The office will be open Saturday, March 30th and Saturday, April 6th, the date the books close for the primaries.

The registration books will remain closed from April 6th until June 3rd for the May primaries.

After April 6th changes may not be made in party affiliations until after the November general election, in other words changes must be made between the primary and general election.

New precincts and new voting machines have been added to eliminate the long lines that has occurred before on election days.

Florida Baptist Plans Fall Opening

First classes for Florida Baptist College will be held this fall on the campus of the First Baptist Church in West Palm Beach.

This was announced Friday by Dr. Jen Moody, Chairman of the board of trustees, who also announced that Dr. John Carter has been appointed executive vice president of the college.

Dr. Carter resigned as president of Campbellville College, Campbellville, Ky., to accept the administrative role in the new college because, as he puts it, "This is the most exciting challenge in higher education that I have ever seen and I want to be a part of it."

At the news conference was Amos Jackson, chairman of the board of the Palm Beach Development Board who said, "This is a red letter day for Palm Beach County. We look forward to helping you in any way possible in the building of this great college."

Dr. Moody announced that the philosophy of the college will be centered around "the three w's" — world, work, wisdom. The board chairman, in explaining the creed, said that students will be required to work at least 10 hours a week either on or off campus.

"We are interested in the coordination of the total person. We will seek poverty pockets in the area and help refurbish these areas. We want to become a servant institution of our community."

Dr. Moody said, "The college will use the campus in Palm Beach Gardens is ready." Dr. Moody said, "However we won't build until we have sufficient funds for construction."
